Introduction of recurring investments

From May 2026, we have introduced the option for customers to make recurring investments for Everyday Investing. Now you can set up automatic regular investments on a weekly, fortnightly or monthly basis.

Partial hedging of investments in global shares

A component of our investments in each managed fund is invested in global shares. We have introduced currency hedging for our investments in global shares to reduce the impact of currency movements on investment returns.

While the overall asset allocation to global shares remains unchanged, the underlying exposure is now split between hedged and unhedged investments. The hedged component is benchmarked to the 'MSCI All Country World ex Australia Net Index (hedged to AUD)', while continuing to provide exposure to global market diversification.
